INDEX

to the

PHILOSOPHICAL TRANSACTIONS.

A.
Amphibia, structure, evolution and origin of the.—The “orders” Rachitomi and Stereospondyli (Watson), 1. Archotermopsis, structure and biology of (IMMS), 75.

B.
Brownlee (J.) An Investigation into the Periodicity of Measles Epidemics in the Different Districts of London for the years 1890-1912, 181.

E.
Echinoidea Holcotypoida, morphology and development of ambulacrum in (Hawkins), 377.

F.
Flint implements, transition from rostro-carinate to tongue-shaped (Moir), 329.

G.
Gemmill (J. F.) The Development of the Sea-Anemones Metridium dianthus (Ellis) and Adamsia pulicata (Bohad), 351.

H.

I.

L.
Lang (W. D.) The Pelmatoporiae, an Essay on the Evolution of a Group of Cretaceous Polyzoa, 191. Lysorophus, on the structure of, as exposed by serial sections (Sollas), 481.

VOL. CClX. —B. 3 Z

[Published, April 10, 1920.]
INDEX.

M.
Measles epidemics in London, periodicity of, 1890–1912 (Brownlee), 181.
MOIR (J. R.) The Transition from Rostro-carinate Flint Implements to the Tongue-shaped Implements of River-terrace Gravels, 329.

N.
Névromes d’amputations douloureux, recherches anatomo-cliniques sur les (MARINESCO), 229.

P.
Pelmatozoa, group of Cretaceous Polyzoa (Lang), 191.
Polyzoa, cretaceous, evolution of a group of (Lang), 191.
Protozoa, descriptions of new species of intestinal (IMMS), 75.

S.
Sea-anemones, development of (Gemmell), 351.
SALLAS (W. J.) On the Structure of Lysorophus, as Exposed by Serial Sections, 481.

T.
Teeth of man, sheath of Hertwig in; follicle and Nasmyth’s membrane (MUMMERY), 305; —— nerve-end cells in dental pulp (MUMMERY), 321.

W.