The natural and social history of the indigenous lands and protected areas corridor of the Xingu River basin

Stephan Schwartzman, André Villas Boas, Katia Yukari Ono, Marisa Gesteira Fonseca, Juan Doblas, Barbara Zimmerman, Paulo Junqueira, Admaro Jerozolimski, Marcelo Salazar, Rodrigo Prates Junqueira and Maurício Torres

Phil. Trans. R. Soc. B 368, 20120164 (Published on 22 April 2013) (doi:10.1098/rstb.2012.0164)

The vertical axes in figure 2 were incorrectly labelled. The corrected figure can be found below. An addition to the figure caption was also included.

Figure 2. Honey and seed production in the Xingu Park and headwaters, 2007–2012. Annual totals of honey produced (blue, 100 kg), seeds sold (green, 100 kg) and seed revenues (red, $1000s). Revenue amounts are calculated on a constant Brazilian Real/US Dollar exchange rate of R$1.85/USD. Data source: Instituto Socioambiental Annual Reports (2007–2011).