Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society B

Continuing its long history of influential scientific publishing, Phil. Trans. R. Soc. B publishes high quality theme issues on topics of current importance and general interest within the life sciences, guest-edited by leading authorities and comprising new research, reviews and opinions from prominent researchers. Each issue aims to create an original and authoritative synthesis, often bridging traditional disciplines, which showcases current developments and provides a foundation for future research, applications and policy decisions.

Cover image
This is a photo of the Zen garden at Ryoan-ji Temple in Kyoto, Japan. It illustrates many of the cues and factors that are involved in visual scene analysis: texture, contours, colour, patterns of light and shade, continuity, and occlusion. The visual scene leads us astray into several interpretations, such as “islands in an ocean” or “a tiger carrying her cubs across the river”. Various perceptual experiences can be gained from the simplicity of scene. (Photo by Chie Miki).
